Martin Buchalter honored at AIUM – 50th Anniversary

The American Institute of Ultrasound in Medicine honored Martin Buchalter, President of Parker Laboratories, during a dinner celebrating AIUM's 50th Anniversary in Orlando, Florida.

Dr. Lewis Nelson, III, former President of AIUM, recognized Martin Buchalter for his dedication and participation in the AIUM. Mr. Buchalter is currently a senior member of the AIUM and has been active in the society for over four decades. "His involvement in the Exhibit Advisory council, both as member and as chair has been invaluable", said Dr. Nelson, "he is probably most famous for his 1950's development of medical ultrasound gel and is president and founder of Parker Laboratories, Inc".

Parker Laboratories has manufactured ultrasound and electromedical contact media for the ultrasound industry for the past forty years. Mr. Buchalter received the award among his business associates, peers and family members.
